

Pan-African Diabetic Foot Study Group (PADFSG)

Invitation to 3rd Pan-African Diabetic Foot Study Group 14th – 15th October 2016

On behalf of the local organizing committee, I would like to invite you to the 3rd Pan-African Diabetic Foot Study Group biannual meeting and welcome you in Cairo, Egypt

Cairo is the capital of Egypt and the largest city in the Middle-East and Africa, founded in CE 969. Home to one of the oldest and richest civilizations in the world, Cairo is unique with its ancient monuments and historical landmarks that date back thousands of years, from the Great Pyramids to Al Azhar University; the second oldest institution of higher learning and the Hanging Church; one of the oldest churches that dates to the 3rd century.

The event will be held 14 – 15 October 2016. The Meeting will be a unique event with interdisciplinary collaboration between diabetologists, podiatrists, specialist nurses, orthopedic and vascular surgeons, as well as all other interested specialties in the field of diabetic foot.

The Egyptian Society of Diabetic Foot (ESDF) is a non-governmental nonprofit organization that aims to increase the awareness on the importance of foot care in people with diabetes and the value of early screening. It also cares about training physicians and nurses across Egypt. The ESDF has also a social responsibility towards DF patients.

We wish you a rewarding meeting with interesting contacts and an opportunity to visit an exciting city. We look forward to seeing you in Egypt.

Prof Hanan Gawish
Chairman of the Local Organizing Committee, Secretary of the ESDF

Prof Mamdouh El-Nahas, President of ESDF
